Homeowners across the nation are trying to avoid foreclosure through loan modification. Government foreclosure programs, loan modification and other foreclosure help programs are in abundance. One loan modification company outshined others in our recent review of this fast growing industry.

WeSaveHomes.com is named leading foreclosure and loan modification company by Foreclosure Upclose. Foreclosure Upclose, a housing and foreclosure research company, recently conducted a review of foreclosure help programs and loan modification companies across the nation. The review included a review of business models, customer service and customer testimonials. WeSaveHomes.com dedicated team took the award after demonstrating a clear passion for stopping home foreclosures. Loan modification has become an in demand solution for homeowners fighting to avoid foreclosure and much needed mortgage relief. Homeowners are struggling to understand their options when facing home foreclosure, this can be confusing and very stressful for homeowners. With so many proposed government foreclosure plans, foreclosure scams and uncertainty in the housing market many homeowners are taken advantage of or lost in the shuffle. provide an array of options, understand every individuals situation, and understanding our company goal - saving homeowners from foreclosure.

WeSaveHomes.com consistently provides an educational approach that includes free local seminars and consultations to homeowners needing foreclosure assistance. Just one of the reasons they ranked at the top of our review. During recent interviews with their staff there seemed to be an overall confidence in what their services provides to homeowner. Their service is tailored to focus on the individual and their needs, not on profiting from the current foreclosure crisis. Chris Timmons, a Loan Modification Specialist with WeSaveHomes.com, contributes their success to their ability to "provide an array of options, understand every individuals situation, and understanding our company goal - saving homeowners from foreclosure." WeSaveHomes.com knows that when facing foreclosure the battle does not end when they save a home. Their understanding of debt and emotional issues that tie into this crisis is unmatched in the industry. They are saving homes from foreclosure via loan modification, but it is what they do through the entire process that sets them apart from other loan modification companies. Chris Timmons explains, "We focus on the entire situation and find ways to help the homeowner from coming back to this point again. Modifying a mortgage is only good if it helps the homeowner keep their home, stay out of debt and avoid foreclosure from every happening again. Homeowners facing foreclosure also experience high credit card debt and damaged credit. Our loan modification process looks at every aspect of the financial situation and tailors a program that can clear up each issue."
